

Lesson Plan for Thursday, September 9, 2006
Literature, Identity, and Representation

Go to the appendix in the Culler book. There are 13 descriptions of contemporary literary theories. Have people divide into pairs or groups, read the descriptions, and come up with a question to summarize what they think is important about those theoretical schools.

1. First go around: 7 groups, pairs of 3
2. Second time around, 6 groups, break the 7th group up

The readings for today will be talked about on Tuesday, September
